

Assignment #1 Cheat Sheet: Learning Contract

This contract is your personalized plan for what you want to learn in this course, how you'll achieve it, and how you'll prove it. You'll build it around your learning style (per Kolb's Learning Style Inventory) and professional goals.

1. Get Clear on the Basics

- Complete Kolb's Learning Style Inventory (LSI).
 - Identify your weakest learning style — one of your objectives must focus on improving that.
 - Reflect on your personal or professional reasons for taking this course.

2. Write 3 Clear Learning Objectives

Each should be:

- Specific, measurable, and achievable within this course.
- Aligned with course content and assignments.
- Written in full sentences, using action words (e.g., "improve," "apply," "develop").

Example Objectives:

1. (Kolb style) Strengthen my accommodating learning style by engaging more in group collaboration and peer feedback.
 2. (Theoretical) Develop a solid understanding of adult learning theories (Andragogy) to enhance my facilitation practice.
 3. (Professional goal) Begin building a professional network of facilitators for mutual learning and growth.

3. Resources & Strategies

For each objective, describe:

- Where in the course you'll get support (e.g., Unit 2, A#2, discussion forums).
- What outside resources you may use (e.g., Kolb's workbook, scholarly articles).
- Strategies (e.g., joining Wednesday chats, asking for peer feedback).

 Be specific! "Use Unit 2 discussion threads to reflect on learning styles" is stronger than "do class readings."

4. Target Dates

Assign target dates to each objective.

- Align them with your course calendar (e.g., "Objective 1 – complete by Week 4," or "A#2 due Jan 25").

5. Evidence

Describe what you'll do or create to show your learning:

- Assignments (A#2, A#3)
- Discussion posts
- Participation in group work or peer feedback
- Reflections or lesson plan drafts

Make it observable and specific.

6. Verification

State how you and your instructor will measure success:

- Assignment grades
- Instructor or peer feedback
- Self-assessment
- Reflections

💬 Example: “My understanding of Andragogy will be shown through A#2 and confirmed by instructor feedback.”

7. Final Touches

- Proofread: Clear, complete sentences. No fragments!
 - Check spelling (3 or more errors = lowest mark).
 - Save with correct filename format (e.g., SmithJA1).
